EXPERIENCE MALAYSIA & MIRI

MULTICULTURALISM, A FACT OF LIFE

Having had an interesting past and being a part of the international spice route many hundreds of years ago, Malaysia has turned into a bubbling, bustling melting pot of races living together in peace and harmony. Malays, Chinese, Indians, the indigenous communities of Sarawak and Sabah, and several other ethnic groups, have lived together for generations. All these cultures have influenced each other, creating a truly Malaysian culture.

Everything from its people to its architecture reflect a colourful heritage and an amalgamated culture. Multiculturalism has also made Malaysia a cosmopolitan paradise and home to hundreds of colourful festivals. It is therefore no wonder that Malaysians love celebrating and socialising.

SARAWAK - THE NATION'S LARGEST AND MOST DIVERSE STATE

Malaysia’s diversity is most profound in Sarawak, in East Malaysia, on the Island of Borneo. From pristine underwater marine life and untouched coral reefs to the rich heritage of its indigenous peoples, and from lush rainforests and some of the world’s largest caves to picturesque beach resorts and modern city landscapes, Sarawak is indeed a potpourri of experiences. Known as Bumi Kenyalang or ‘Land of the Hornbills’, Sarawak is Malaysia’s largest state and home to some 27 ethnic groups making up a population close to 2 million, each with its own distinct language, culture and lifestyle. The Iban form the predominant ethnic group, followed by the Chinese, Malays, Bidayuh, Melanau and other native groups. The majority of the population live and work in the State’s cities and towns, but a sizeable percentage still live in longhouses and villages in the interior and engage in agriculture.

Sarawak is renowned for its natural beauty and attractions, which includes the famous Muru Caves, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Sarawak’s rainforest is one of the most diverse and protected ecosystems in the world. Its treasure of natural wonders is best appreciated in its many protected national parks where alluring caves, waterfalls, beaches and exotic wildlife can be found.

Sarawak has an abundance of natural resources. Sarawak’s LNG and petroleum have provided the mainstay of the Sarawak’s economy for decades and the state is also one of the world’s largest exporters of tropical hardwood timber and the major contributor to Malaysian exports.

Future growth is being fuelled by an influx of foreign investment and new industries being established within the Sarawak Corridor Of Renewable Energy (SCORE), one of the five regional development corridors being developed throughout the country and aimed at transforming Sarawak into a developed state by the year 2020.

SARAWAK’S MOST COSMOPOLITAN CITY

Miri is regarded as Sarawak’s most cosmopolitan city with a population of more than 350,000 comprising the entire spectrum of the state’s over 20 ethnic groups, as well as a large expatriate community.

It is often referred to as the ‘Oil Town of Malaysia’ as it is home to the country’s over 100-year-old petroleum industry, as well as Sarawak’s ‘Resort City’ given its scenic seaside location and being the gateway city to the area’s world renowned natural attractions.

CITY ON THE MOVE

Miri’s history, progress and economy have always been tied to all. Only a humble fishing village about a century ago, it has grown in leaps and bounds since oil was discovered in the area in 1910.

The oil and gas industry remains the largest contributor to the economy of Sarawak but other industries such as forestry and agriculture burgeoned in the years following Sarawak’s independence through the formation of Malaysia in 1963. In recent years, the construction, shipbuilding, retail, financial services, tourism, education and manufacturing sectors have also contributed greatly to the city’s rapid economic growth.

Today, Miri boasts a splendid waterfront, marina, shopping malls, international class hotels and a modern airport and port.

It has also become an educational and training hub with the presence of Curtin Malaysia and other private and public institutions of higher learning, as well as a key tourism hub for eco-activities, diving and adventure holidays.

As a city on the move, new infrastructure and development projects are planned or underway. They include the Miri ParkCity development incorporating new government offices, financial institutions, hotels, luxury condominiums and commercial properties. The Wharf at the city’s waterfront area incorporating high-rise condominiums, new hotels and commercial properties; expansion of new townships, as well as new roads, public amenities and commercial areas in both inner city and suburban areas.

AN INTEGRAL PART OF CURTIN

We are proud to be the world’s largest Australian international campus, as well as Curtin’s largest international campus and global hub in Asia.

Curtin Malaysia was the first foreign university campus to be established in East Malaysia (in 1999) and is currently among the top-rated tertiary institutions in Malaysia under the country’s SETARA and D-SETARA rating systems, as well as one of a select number of self-accrediting universities in the country.

THE PERFECT LEARNING ENVIRONMENT

We are located in a region of Sarawak famed for its natural wonders, rich cultural heritage and biodiversity, oil and gas industry, and emerging processing and manufacturing industries.

With over 4,000 students from more than 50 countries and staff from some 20 nations, we offer a truly international and cross-cultural learning environment in a unique Malaysian setting. Inevitably, this adds a rich and valuable dimension to the campus atmosphere and also prepares our graduates to live and work in an increasingly global environment.

INDUSTRY-RELEVANT COURSES WITH INTERNATIONAL RECOGNITION

We offer a wide range of Curtin undergraduate and postgraduate courses in business and humanities, engineering and science, in addition to courses at pre-university level that feed directly into the undergraduate programmes. As the courses are identical in structure to those offered at our mother campus in Perth, students can transfer between campuses without disruption to their studies.

In addition to accreditation by professional bodies in Australia, Malaysia and other countries, the courses are endorsed by the Malaysian Ministry of Higher Education. They are also widely recognised for their practical and applied nature, which equip our graduates with essential skills through exposure to industry and business. So is our research which focuses on solving real world problems.

This combination enables our graduates to be effective in the workplace immediately upon graduation. As part of this approach, we have always fostered successful partnerships with industry, business and government to enhance the quality of our scholarship, teaching and research.

MODERN CAMPUS FACILITIES

Our campus is one of the most modern university campuses in Southeast Asia, where stylish architectural buildings complement state-of-the-art facilities and equipment. Situated on a 1,000 acre site in Desa Senadin, a northern suburb of Miri, it features beautifully landscaped gardens, man-made lakes and surrounding wetlands teeming with indigenous and migratory birds, making for a most unique learning environment.
Over 1000 FREE parking spaces across the campus.
